secondary schools across the U.S.

Catholic Schools Week celebrates education that goes beyond preparation for a secular life — it is education that prepares students for a Christian life. CSW also celebrates the high standards of excellence and the quality of the education available to all students in Catholic elementary and

We are blessed to have St. Didacus School as a vital part of our parish life. Our principal, Mrs. Christine Dean and all the teachers and staff are committed to empowering students to be spiritually, academically and socially prepared to live today and tomorrow, both morally and effectively.

St. Didacus School will kick off this annual celebration week at the 10am Mass on Sunday, January 26th and will celebrate the week with a special theme each day. The week concludes with Grandparents' Day on Friday, January 31st. Through these events we focus on the value Catholic education provides to young people and its contributions to our church, our communities and our nation.

“Care—Prayer—Support” Gathering
Sunday, February 2nd
7:00pm—7:45pm in the Parish Hall

The gathering will include: opening prayer, spiritual reading, group sharing/petitions/comments, an Our Father and closing prayer. They will also have information on various agencies that can help with whatever you or a loved one are encountering - be it depression, anxiety, grief, addiction, stress, or other struggles. All are welcome.

The St. Didacus Mental Health Ministry Group is looking for a young adult parishioner to join the ministry and provide perspective for that age group. If you are interested in more information about filling this role, please contact the Mental Health Ministry at 619-940-6193.

First there was bad news. John the Baptist was arrested and imprisoned. The good news was Jesus had still time to fulfill his mission of saving all of humanity from darkness and sin. But how would he be able to accomplish such humanly impossible task. Would three years be enough? Jesus was just beginning his ministry. What was important he was led by the Holy Spirit every step of the way. The first official act he did was to call disciples who would be willing to leave everything behind for the sake of the Kingdom. There were twelve of them whom he called apostles which literally meant “one sent on a mission.” Twelve was symbolic. They would represent the twelve tribes of Israel.

The apostles as the Gospel tells us were personally called by Jesus by their names. Some of their names like Simon would be changed into Peter, signifying the new life and the new role he had to live. Most of them were simple and ordinary fishermen. They were chosen by the Lord not because they were competent or qualified. In fact later on we would see that all of them, except John, would fail the test. They would run away and abandon Jesus. Peter would deny his master three times. The Lord had chosen them for what they could become. History would prove that by the power of the Holy Spirit and the grace of God these ordinary people would become the foundation and the pillars of what we now call the Holy Roman Catholic Church and of all other Christian Churches throughout the world.

Today the Lord continues to call each one of us, regardless of who we are so that we too can be sent and do his mission of proclaiming the goodness and the greatness of God.

Everyone is Welcome to Attend the
Anointing of the Sick Mass
Saturday, February 1st at 9am

In the Church's Sacrament of Anointing of the Sick, through the ministry of the priest, it is Jesus who touches the sick to heal them from sin – and sometimes even from physical ailment. The primary effect of the Sacrament is a spiritual healing by which the sick person receives the Holy Spirit's gift of peace and courage to deal with the difficulties that accompany serious illness or the frailty of old age.

Grant, O Lord my God, that I may never fall away in success or in failure; that I may not be prideful in prosperity nor dejected in adversity. Let me rejoice only in what unites us and sorrow only in what separates us. May I strive to please no one or fear to displease anyone except Yourself. May I see always the things that are eternal and never those that are only temporal. May I shun any joy that is without You and never seek any that is beside You.

O Lord, may I delight in any work I do for You and tire of any rest that is apart from You. My God, let me direct my heart towards You, and in my failings, always repent with a purpose of amendment.

On September 30, 2019, on the liturgical memorial of St. Jerome, Pope Francis announced that the Third Sunday in Ordinary Time would be celebrated as the Sunday of the Word of God. The inspiring full text of his Apostolic Letter, “Aperuit illis: Instituting the Sunday of the Word of God” can be found and read on-line. There is a link to this document on the US Bishop’s website uscbb.org.

Pope Francis says in his Apostolic Letter: “Regular reading of sacred Scripture and the celebration of the Eucharist make it possible for us to see ourselves as part of one another. As Christians, we are a single people, making our pilgrim way through history, sustained by the Lord, present in our midst, who speaks to us and nourishes us. A day devoted to the Bible should not be seen as a yearly event but rather a year-long event, for we urgently need to grow in our knowledge and love of the Scriptures and of the risen Lord, who continues to speak his word and to break bread in the community of believers. For this reason, we need to develop a closer relationship with sacred Scripture; otherwise, our hearts will remain cold and our eyes shut, struck as we are by so many forms of blindness.”

How can you increase your knowledge and love for the Scriptures this year? Here are some helpful tips:

Pick a time, but not just any time. Commit to a daily time that you’ll open God’s Word but be sure it’s an intelligent time. If you’re really tired, for example, then reading the Bible once you’re in bed probably isn’t the best time. Pick a time when you’re totally awake so you can give your full attention.

Pray, and then pray some more. Before you open God’s Word, ask the author of that word – the Holy Spirit – to be present in a bold and fierce way. Quiet yourself, spend some time in silence, and hold the Bible in your hands as you pray. Ask God, through the power of His Spirit, to open your mind, your eyes and your heart to His truth. Thank Him for the gift of His Word, a gift that millions have given their lives to defend and offer you the freedom to read and pray. It doesn’t have to be a long prayer but take some time ... this is the most important step in Bible study.

Have a plan. If you were planning on reading the Bible cover to cover ... don’t. The Bible isn’t a novel; it wasn’t designed to be read from Genesis straight through to Revelation. After you have studied it for a while, if you want to go back and read it cover to cover, go for it. Until then you’d be wise to attack it from a different angle. Pick one book that you are going to start in and make that book your focus for a while. If you are starting from scratch, try reading the Gospel of Mark. St. Mark’s gospel is the shortest and easiest to understand.

Get the background. If you do start in a Gospel, take the time to learn about who the author was, who he was writing to, and what the basic themes are of his Gospel account. Ask yourself what makes that specific account different than the other three. Don’t just jump into a letter of St. Paul without knowing what is going on in the city to which he is writing. If you are reading a prophet, know what was going on in his world at the time.

You are invited to go deeper into your relationship with Jesus by knowing him better through the inspired words of the Bible.

It begins! Jesus is doing something new. “He left Nazareth and went to live in Capernaum by the sea.” Jesus leaves his family, his profession of carpentry, and everything he has known and loved for the previous 30 years. He goes because it is time. Something new is beginning, and Jesus will not begin it alone. “As he was walking by the Sea of Galilee, he saw two brothers ... he walked along from there and saw two other brothers.” What does he say to these men? “Come after me.” These words are for Peter and Andrew, for James and for John. They are also for all of us.

“Come after me.” The adventure of discipleship will be strange, wild, and unexpected. The Apostles surely didn’t know what they were getting into. But the invitation is accompanied by a promise. “I will make you fishers of men,” Jesus tells the first Apostles. No more will their priorities be limited to this particular village, to the square miles of the Sea of Galilee. Their eyes will be open to the kingdom of God, and their priorities will shift.

Most of us will not be called to roam the countryside, but we are invited to a similar shift of priorities. “Come after me,” Jesus says. “At once they left their nets and followed him.” Drop the nets of what you’ve demanded your life to be. Drop your self-seeking priorities. Drop your concept of religion as a Sunday obligation and no more. Drop your disregard for those outside your immediate social sphere. Whatever it is that keeps you from seeing as Jesus sees, from loving as he loves, start to drop it today. Because the kingdom of God is waiting for your yes!

Ordinary Time: When Sunday is preeminent

The liturgical term “ordinary” means that which is standard, normative, usual or typical—not unimportant. Ordinary Time is the standard time of the Church and the standard worship is the ordinary time of Sunday in the week-to-week progress of time.

Ordinary Time allows the special character of Sunday to have a dominant role. Week after week, Sunday “ordinarily” celebrates the Resurrection and the unfolding of the new creation.

Twice a year the ordinary time of the Church is made extraordinary by the Easter and Christmas cycles. That results in two segments of Ordinary Time: one in winter and one in summer.

Reflexión de nuestro párroco...

Primero hubo malas noticias, Juan el Bautista fue arrestado y encarcelado. La buena noticia fue que Jesús todavía tenía tiempo para cumplir su misión de salvación. Pero, ¿cómo podría Jesús lograr una tarea tan humanamente imposible? ¿Serían suficientes tres años? Jesús comenzaba su ministerio. Lo importante fue que el Espíritu Santo lo guiaba en cada paso de su camino. El primer acto oficial que hizo fue llamar a sus discípulos e invitarlos a dejar todo por el Reino de Dios. Había doce de ellos a quienes llamó apóstoles, lo que literalmente significaba "enviado en misión". Doce es un número simbólico. Representarían a las doce tribus de Israel. Los apóstoles como nos dice el Evangelio fueron llamados personalmente por Jesús por sus nombres. Algunos de sus nombres como el de Simón serían cambiado a Pedro, que significa el nuevo papel que el tendría que vivir. La mayoría de ellos eran pescadores sencillos. Ellos fueron elegidos por el Señor no por su competencia, más adelante veremos que todos, excepto Juan, lo abandonarían. Pedro negaría a su maestro tres veces. La historia demostraría que, por el poder del Espíritu Santo y la gracia de Dios, estas personas comunes y corrientes se convertirían en el fundamento y pilares de lo que ahora llamamos la Santa Iglesia Católica Apostólica Romana. Hoy el Señor continúa llamándonos a cada uno de nosotros, independientemente de quiénes somos, para que nosotros también podamos ser enviados y hacer su misión de proclamar la bondad y la grandeza de Dios.
